

German Reprisals Grow in Parts of Occupied Country

Rebellious Outbreaks
Have Cost Lives of
115; 71 Wounded

(By The Associated Press)
Shots of a German firing squad broke the quiet of a Paris dawn once more today as two more communists were executed in reprisal for demonstrations against the German occupying authorities in France.

Paris has become in recent months a restive symbol of the chafing of a populace under authoritarian rule; there the Germans have taken the most drastic of measures applied in the many occupied lands.

Bombs and gunfire in rebellious outbreaks in axis-conquered lands and the answers of firing squads have taken the lives of at least 115 persons, wounded 71, and resulted in sweeping arrests of uncounted hundreds within a week.

In Paris the situation was so grave the Germans ordered a curfew imposed for three nights in the Seine department, whose chief city is Paris, and warned that the violators would be arrested and held as hostages.

Two days ago the German military command warned that an increasing number of hostages would be shot in any future attacks on Germans and that they would be drawn from all classes.

"I will no longer allow the lives of German soldiers to be threatened by murderers," said Col. Gen. Heinrich von Stulpnagel, the German commander of the occupation forces, as the latest restrictive measure, the curfew, was announced.

Already 15 Frenchmen have died by the firing squad in retaliation for attacks on German soldiers. Twelve of them were shot this week.

The first attack on a German soldier occurred several weeks ago. He was stabbed to death in a Paris subway. Another German was clubbed upon leaving a theater, and still later another was shot in the back on a Paris street.

His subsequent death caused the grim warning that any Parisian was liable to seizure and death as a hostage.

Serbs Continue Resistance
Bombings and gunfire marked the continued resistance of Serbs in the mountain hamlets of Yugoslavia.

An explosion in the Zagreb, Croatia, central telephone exchange last Sunday wounded at least 12 German soldiers, one of them a major, and seven Croats. In another section of that city other Croats were attacked by four gunmen. The four were reported captured, and one of them, still clutching a hand grenade, was shot dead and left lying in the street as a warning.

At Sarajevo 61 Serbs were reported executed for such offenses as firing on military patrols.

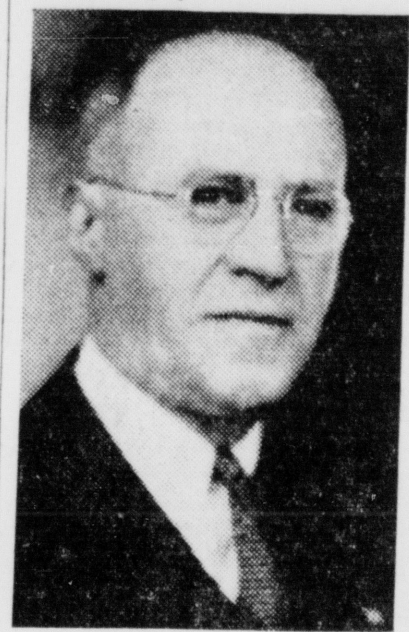

The Sarajevo-Brod railway was blown up by saboteurs, and two bombs tossed at a bus wounded two German soldiers.

Trouble in France was not confined to the occupied zone. Anti-communist courts in the Vichy-controlled area continued to grind out prison sentences, and at Marseilles one Frenchman was sentenced to death for treason. In Algiers, French Africa, two others were condemned to death on the same charge.

This Is Story of 2 Ambitious Ohio Boys and Pet Pup

Eugene Kashnik, 12, and Donald Alexander, 14, of Massillon, Ohio, left their homes Wednesday and without giving members of their families notice of their plans, set out for Hollywood to establish themselves. Kashnik's ambition was to attach himself to the Bing Crosby stables as a jockey, while Alexander planned to purchase a western wild horse, train it and then become a rider on Gene Autrey's ranch.

Last evening the hitch hiking pair of youths went to the Dan Ortigiesen farm in South Dixon township and asked permission to sleep in the barn, but were refused. They then went to the home of a neighbor, Albert Beard, where they were taken in and given their supper. Both told a very plausible story of their plans but Sheriff Gilbert Finch was informed of their presence in the vicinity and went to the Beard farm, where he questioned them.

Have Pup as Mascot
The boys repeated their stories of their lofty plans but certain angles had not been properly rehearsed and the sheriff brought them to the county jail in Dixon. They possessed about $8.50 in cash, from which sum they proposed to buy a wild western horse, which they would train before embarking on their proposed careers in the movie capital. They also carefully guarded a seven weeks old chow pup which they had taken along as their mascot, and while they carried no food for themselves, they had provided for the pup's welfare.

Before arriving at the county jail they admitted to Sheriff Finch that they had run away from home Wednesday and had succeeded in hitch hiking rides with several persons, who had requested them to write when they had reached their western destination. At the county jail the boys thought they would be guests for the night only and insisted that they wanted to be on the road again at 7 o'clock this morning, but Sheriff Finch had reached their western destination.

Amazing Display of Aurora Borealis In Heavens Last Night

Veteran Observers Say
They Have Never Seen
Them Equalled

Chicago, Sept. 19.—(AP)—An amazing display of Aurora Borealis, which veteran observers said they had never seen equalled, swept the north-eastern quarter of the North American continent last night.

The display included manifestations of arches, bands, curtains, and streamers which ranged far over into the southern skies. In New York, the brightness frequently reached that of full moonlight. Airplane passengers said they saw a rainbow on a scale unbelievable.

Unstable New Yorkers gazed at the blazing skies and telephoned to ask if the city were under attack by hostile bombers.

High-speed news wires delivered only gibberish for minutes at a time.

The disturbance to communication lines was felt in the United States as far west as Albuquerque, N. M.

No Coping With Problem
Telegraph companies reported their worst difficulties in an area north of the Ohio river and east of the Mississippi.

It was a problem with which there was no coping. Quick routings of traffic over other lines only ran into the same situation.

Electrical engineers have not as yet devised a method of keeping the powerful earth currents thrown out during the displays off their lines.

Most of them believe the Aurora Borealis is a manifestation of sunspots which appear to set up magnetic currents toward the earth and these slash across communication lines with devastating results.

London reported communication in all parts of the world was awry. Australia being cut off from the island for long stretches and cables to America being messed up. The Rome, Berlin and Moscow radios, usually heard clearly in London, failed to come through.

Black-out Helsinki saw a particularly fine display which was interpreted there as an omen of early winter.

Gen. Lear Escapes Being Captured by Flight Early Today

Second Army Commander Surprised by Third
Army Maneuver

With Second Army, Sept. 19.—(AP)—With enemy gunfire resounding less than half a mile from his desk, Lieut.-General Ben Lear hurriedly evacuated his headquarters at Nachtigals today and sped secretly to a new location to escape a surprise Third Army trap.

The week-long battle was seemingly in the Second Army's favor late yesterday, with fast moving mechanized columns shoving the Third Army back to the Texas border. But suddenly an enemy attack burst 75 miles to the east along the Red river.

In less than three hours, columns of blue (Third) army infantry, supported by artillery, drove to within 15 miles of Nachtigals, under cover of devastating attacks by bombers and pursuit planes.

Lieut. General Walter Krueger's blue army had gained superiority of the air over the front lines from Nachtigals to the Texas border earlier in the day and then turned loose hundreds of planes on vulnerable red concentrations.

Almost before General Lear's staff realized what was happening, the enemy was at the outskirts of Nachtigals. With machine guns and rifles the red army held them across the Cane river bordering the town and repulsed their attempt to take the main streets.

Civilians Watch Battle
A horde of bombers and pursuit planes roared low over land battles and simulated bombing and strafing enemy troops. Civilians poured out of offices and homes to view the make-believe battle.

Quickly the Second Army's headquarters, which had moved into the Nachtigals high school only the day before, prepared for a quick getaway.

Typewriters, office files and military equipment were packed into boxes, loaded into trucks and whisked away.

Meanwhile, infantry, artillery and anti-aircraft troops, brought

Du Quoin, Ill., Sept. 19.—(AP)—The state police radio—one of the law's strongest weapons against bank robbers, car thieves and sundry criminals—today carried messages about a six-legged hog and other freaks including dogs, fowl and reptiles.

The message asked law enforcement officers throughout Egypt to be on the lookout for an automobile trailer housing these oddities after Morgan Phillips advised state police here last night they had been stolen Monday at LaSalle where they had been on exhibition.

Describing himself as a showman and owner of the assortment, Phillips placed a valuation of $8000 on the hog with the extra two legs.

Government Takes Over Three Ships Now Strike-Bound

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Three merchant ships of the great Alcoa fleet were under federal requisition today and the government was ready to seize others as a dispute between seamen and owners over war bonuses threatened to burgeon into a general strike.

An estimated 14 ships of six companies were reported struck last night including the three vessels seized, the Alcoa Trader, Alcoa Banner and Alcoa Scout, owned by a subsidiary of the Aluminum Co. of America.

The strike was called Saturday by the Seafarers International Union (AFL) to enforce demands for increased bonuses for war-zone travel. No specific amounts were asked, except for a $60 monthly bonus for travel in the West Indies, which would thus become a war zone, as are Canadian waters, where a dollar-a-day bonus is paid.

Conditional Proposal
Concerned over supplies for offshore bases in the West Indies, the Maritime Commission set noon yesterday as the deadline for submission of the dispute to arbitration. When the union, through a spokesman, refused to arbitrate and threatened a general strike, the commission acted.

Five hours after Capt. Granville Conway, district director of the commission, stepped aboard the three Alcoa freighters at Weehawken, N. J., and took them over in the name of the United States, the union announced it was willing to submit the dispute to arbitration but only on condition that the arbitrators take into account the union's proposal that a $60 monthly bonus be paid to seamen plying West Indies waters.

Army Buys 41 Million
Cans of Vegetables

Chicago, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Purchase of more than 41 million cans of vegetables for the army at a cost of $4,451,017.48 was announced today by officials of the Chicago quartermaster depot.

It was one of the largest orders for canned vegetables ever made by the army.

The purchase involved 41,210,868 cans of corn, peas, tomatoes, snap beans, pumpkin, beets, sauerkraut, tomato juice and tomato catsup.

Contracts provide for future delivery of most of the vegetables, the goods to be stored in contractors' warehouses, pending requisition by the quartermaster corps. Contractors will ship direct to camps, posts and stations designated by the corps.

Some of the larger awards follow: (prices do not include discounts):

Canned corn No. 2 cans: Gibson Canning Co., Gibson City, Ill., $36,000; Onarga Canning Co., Onarga, Ill., $36,000; Hoopes Canning Co., Hoopes, Ill., $30,960; Milford Canning Co., Inc., Milford, Ill., $29,747.50.

President Rejects Army's Control of Defense Industry

Acts to Keep Civilian
Personnel in Charge of Huge Program

Washington, Sept. 19.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, informed quarters reported today, has rejected proposals that would have placed a greater degree of control over defense industry in military, instead of civilian hands.

Refusing recommendations designed to extend the army's authority, Roosevelt took action to insure that the civilian-dominated governmental agencies administer measures affecting the supply of raw materials, priorities, production and export control.

The President's decision was the major development to date in what was described as a long and spirited behind-the-scenes battle for control of defense production and regulation of export trade.

Disclosure of the conflict followed the President's executive order of Sept. 15 which transferred the export control administration to the economic defense board headed by Vice President Wallace.

By that order the President not only transferred the hitherto separate, army-controlled export control administration to the vice president's board, but reduced it to a subordinate division which will be headed by a civilian, Milo Perkins, former head of the

Nazi Consulate in Argentina Attacked

Buenos Aires, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Two small bombs were thrown today in front of the fashionable embassy residence of German ambassador Edmund von Thernmann during a hostile demonstration.

Von Thernmann has been the object of a congressional attack which reached a virtual demand for his expulsion from Argentina for alleged abuse of his diplomatic privileges.

Police made one arrest and dispersed a group of about 20 persons after extra police had been called out to suppress the disturbance shortly after midnight.

No damage was done the building other than stains left by a tar bomb thrown by demonstrators. Stones were also flung at the embassy while a small fire bomb exploded about 500 feet away.

Capt. Fritz Wiedemann, formerly German consul at San Francisco, Calif., boarded the Japanese cargo boat Manila Maru to sail for the Far East this morning.

Von Thernmann and several members of the German embassy staff went down to see him off.

Von Thernmann said no damage was done by last night's demonstration and "I did not even wake up."

Nazis Claim Fall of Kiev With 4 Armies Trapped

The War Today!

By DeWitt MacKenzie
(Telegraph Special Service)

Hitler's powerful and unrelenting offensives against the Russians on both flanks of the 1,100-mile battle-line are creating a grave threat to the present Red positions.

The crucial engagement—having regard to its effect not only on the Russo-German war but on the European conflict as a whole—is in the Ukraine, which will provide a gateway to further tremendous adventures if the Nazi chief can force it.

There certainly is nothing in the strategic set-up of the moment to guarantee that the fiercely resisting Muscovites won't be compelled to make widespread withdrawals to defenses further east. Indeed, the likelihood is that they will unless they have a quick break of luck.

Thus far the bolshevist high command has pulled back its great, unwieldy front in such soldierly fashion as to keep it intact. But retreats are among the most dangerous operations of war, for once a line gives way there may easily be debacle, and frequently the situation becomes more critical with each retirement.

This increasing pressure on the Reds will make the allies turn their eyes toward Tokyo, where among the momentous problems the Japanese government has been considering undoubtedly is whether Japan shall seize the opportunity to attack Russia. The feeling has existed in some Japanese quarters that war might be made on the Reds without bringing Nippon into conflict with the United States.

Thus it is interesting to note that today for the second time the Japanese government has protested to the soviet against floating mines in the Sea of Japan. Here we have a possible basis for war—if Tokyo feels that Russia is hard-pressed enough to warrant such action.

The military position in the Russian theater today gives the picture of a front which is flaming with death from end to end.

The great city of Leningrad, Russia's doorway to the Baltic and the Red Fleet, is still on its feet but it is bathed in blood and fire. The defense by troops, and civilian men and women, is an epic.

Berlin claims to have silenced the big guns of Kronstadt, the soviet naval base which has guarded the ancient czarist capital from sea-attack. The Nazis now may be able to capitalize this with a naval assault to support their land operations.

In the center of the front near Smolensk, on the road to Moscow, the opposing forces are in a bloody grip which is swaying the line like a reed. The protracted engagement in this sector probably will be listed as one of the most costly of the war in human life.

Down south in the Ukraine—Hitler's land of dreams—the Nazis continue to press forward. Moscow itself today announced that the enemy was at one of the gates of Kiev, capital of the Ukraine and one of the most important cities of all Russia, both strategically and industrially.

North and south of the city the

New Threats at Leningrad are Reported

(By The Associated Press)

Adolf Hitler's high command reported late today that German troops have entered Kiev, the Ukraine capital and Russia's third greatest city, while other Nazi forces have trapped four Russian armies and stormed within 80 miles of Kharkov.

The Swastika flag is waving over the Kiev citadel, the Nazi high command said, announcing the capture less than 12 hours after the Russians officially acknowledged that German troops had reached one of Kiev's gates.

The city, with a population of 850,000, had been under siege for two months.

Grave new threats also imperiled Russia's second biggest city, Leningrad, with the Germans reporting that the guns of the mighty Kronstadt naval base, 20 miles west of Leningrad, had been silenced.

In the drive toward Kharkov, Hitler's high command reported, Nazi troops captured the key rail town of Poltava, 200 miles east of Kiev and 65 miles east of the Dnieper river.

Resistance Crumbles
Kharkov is the chief industrial city of the Donets river basin. Nazi dispatches indicated that the resistance of Marshal Semyon Budenny's Ukrainian armies was crumbling with German columns marking the blitz tempo which remarked their lightning smashes through Belgium, Holland and France last year.

Amid this desperate plight of the Red defenders, the head of Russia's Mohammedan administration appealed to the world's 235,000,000 Mohammedans to rise "in the name of Islam" against the "devastation of fascism."

The trapped Red armies, unofficially estimated at 500,000 troops, were reported caught in a steel ring 125 miles east of Kiev. "Their annihilation is now in progress," the German high command said.

Terrific Losses
More than 3,600,000 soviet troops were declared to have been slain or captured in the three-month-old campaign. Half were killed, the Nazi high command said.

On the historic ratio of three wounded to every one killed in past wars, this would mean that Red army losses totaled the staggering figure of 9,000,000 men, including some 5,400,000 wounded.

German losses were put at only 402,865 killed, wounded and missing in the first two months of the war.

In a special bulletin, Hitler's field headquarters said German army troops under Field Marshal Gen. Gerd von Rundstedt and Field Marshal Gen. Fedor von Bock, slashing around Kiev in a vast flanking movement, had met beyond the Desna river to trap the Russians.

Finnish military dispatches said

200,000 Soldiers Will Be Released

Chicago, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Approximately 200,000 men in the Sixth Corps Area will be released from active army duty this year under new regulations drafted by the war department, Maj. Gen. Joseph M. Cummins, corps area commander, announced today.

The corps area headquarters has completed plans for the release of the first 20 men this month, Gen. Cummins said. Approximately 200,000 men will be released throughout the nation this year.

Only those soldiers who fall into certain categories can qualify for release. They include men who have dependents, selective service and National Guard enlisted men who reached their 28th birthday on or before July 1, 1941, enlisted men who are married and who have completed one year, and men enlisted for three years in the regular army or for one year in the army of the United States in the expiration of their term of enlistment.

Gen. Cummins said that the men would be released without lowering the military efficiency of any army units in the corps area. Selectees released from active service will become members of the enlisted reserve corps until they are 45, or until the expiration of 10 years, or until discharge.

Selectees released will be granted travel pay of five cents a mile from the point of release to the location of their local draft board.

Electrical Strike in K. C. Called Off

Kansas City, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The surprise strike of electrical workers which began with a four-hour blackout and for two days kept Kansas City on pins and needles ended today.

Members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL) voted 184 to 2 to return to their jobs at 7 a. m. (CST) and pickets withdrew from the two plants of the Kansas City Power & Light Company.

Final settlement came after company officials agreed to permit eight workers accused of sabotage during the walkout to return on the same basis as other employees.

The eight are charged with malicious destruction of property because of their part in the unauthorized shutdown which plunged the city in paralyzing darkness.

The strike was called Tuesday midnight after the Defense Mediation Board referred back to the National Labor Relations Board and the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals a dispute between the I. B. E. W. and the Independent Union of Utility Employees over which should represent 200 overhead workers and a dozen employees in the steam department.

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Ford Frick, president of the National League, today levied a fine of $150 on Leo Durocher, manager of Brooklyn's pennant-seeking Dodgers, for his part in a heated dispute during yesterday's game between Brooklyn and Pittsburgh.

Frick said that the fine "closed the book" on Durocher as far as his part in the wrangling in the game was concerned, but he said other disciplinary action may be taken tomorrow in regard to the reported row between Durocher and Magerkurth and Brooklyn players under the stands after the game. Comedy to Open Four-Night Run at Illini Hall

The Grand Detour Players, under the direction of Richard Vernon, are presenting Charles Harrison's marital mix-up, "Why Wives Worry", on the stage of their summer theater in Illini hall this week.

Heading the cast will be John Cosgrove and Maurice Blythe as two bridegrooms of the same name, who are constantly being harassed by their jealous wives. The two wives, who struggle through two and two-thirds acts under the erroneous impression that both husbands have committed bigamy by marrying the other wife, will be portrayed by Joan Norlander and Toni Lumley.

Director Vernon appears as the completely befuddled butler, who finds the task of coping with two husbands and two wives in the same house beyond him. Don Randall will be seen in one of the most unique roles of the season, as Mr. Gibbs, a hen-pecked husband, who finds his only solace in repeating one favorite expression.

The cast will be completed by two newcomers to Illini hall—Peggy Bryhn, who has appeared in major college productions at Stephens, under the tutelage of Maude Adams; and George Bailey, prominent for many years in Rockford dramatic circles.

It is unusual for a straw hat theater to keep its doors open after Labor Day, but with the excellent weather prevailing in the Rock river valley, the Players are continuing with their weekly attractions.

"Why Wives Worry" will open a four-night run this evening. A matinee performance is scheduled for 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

MRS. HILLS COMES TO WHITE PINES AS FIRST WOMAN PARK NATURALIST IN THIS STATE

Mrs. Alice Hills

Mrs. Hills, Illinois' first woman naturalist, is conducting daily hikes and nature study classes in the White Pines state park, and presents illustrated lectures at 8 o'clock every Saturday evening at the park lodge. A trim figure in forest green hiking breeches and white blouse, she was found by a Telegraph reporter yesterday, making notes on the stand of white pines for which the park is famous.

If medals were given for "firsts," Mrs. Alice Hills, a newcomer to Ogle county from Chicago, has scored in her career. She is the first of her sex to become a state park naturalist in Illinois.

Mrs. Hills, who was in charge of landscaping the Rock Island arsenal grounds and ten dam sites along the Mississippi river from Missouri to Minnesota, has been on duty at the White Pines state park near Polo, since Aug. 1, but announcement of her appointment as naturalist for the 315-acre Ogle county tract was made only this week by Walter A. Rosenfield, director of the department of public works and buildings.

The new naturalist, who is also in charge of reforestation at the park, is comfortably situated in one of the rustic cabins, just a few steps from the main lodge and dining room. Following a well-defined path through a growth of sumac that screens her cabin from the driveway circle, a Telegraph reporter seeking to interview Mrs. Hills yesterday came upon her busily engaged with a typewriter in an outdoor "office" near the cabin door.

"Are you Mrs. Hills?" "Yes I am," and a quick smile brimming with genuine friendliness flashed. Then followed a pleasant quarter-hour, during which Mrs. Hills proved both an interesting and an interested conversationalist.

Asked how she was enjoying White Pines park, she was quick to reply: "Oh, grand! I think this is the cream of the state parks of Illinois."

Daily Hikes
She conducts daily hikes and nature study classes at 9:15 a. m. and 2 p. m.; directs the work of state employees who have just begun the task of transplanting between 2,000 and 3,000 seedlings; presents an illustrated lecture on virgin pines, limestone formations and rare species of flora found in the area, at 8 o'clock every Saturday evening at the lodge; colors her own lecture slides; is collecting and cataloging species of various plants growing within the tract; and has been identifying mounted mushrooms on exhibit in the lodge—all part of the service the state of Illinois offers for visitors of the park.

FULL FLAVOR Soft Sugar Cookies

made the EASY Spry way!

Give the folks a treat. Make these cookies today and please use Spry!

Ordinary shortenings may "smother" flavor

Spry's purer, lets you get the FULL deliciousness of the vanilla, nutmeg, raisins, nuts. Stays fresh longer, too, creams so easily. Three extra advantages and only Spry gives all three. Costs just about half what expensive cake shortening costs. Be smart—use Spry for all your baking and frying!

Soft Sugar Cookies

1/2 cup Spry
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sugar
1 egg, unbeaten
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
3/4 cup thick sour milk or buttermilk
Chopped nuts or raisins

Blend Spry, salt, nutmeg and vanilla. Add sugar gradually and cream well. (Done in a jiffy with triple-mixed Spry.) Add egg and mix well. Sift flour with baking powder and soda, mixing after each addition until smooth. Drop from tablespoon on Spry-coated baking sheet. Sprinkle with sugar and top with chopped nuts or raisins. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 15 to 20 minutes.

Makes 3 dozen but they'll last no time, for they're melt-in-your-mouth tender and so good-tasting. The vanilla and nutmeg flavoring is most appealing and Spry lets you get its FULL deliciousness instead of "dulling" it as ordinary shortenings might. If you want compliments, make all your cookies, cakes and pies with pure Spry. Fry with it, too.

A Thought For Today

A good tree bringeth not forth corrupt fruit; neither doth a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.—Luke 6:45.

It matters not how a man dies, but how he lives.—Johnson.

Now the Russian Gold, Too

Before the latest and more active phase of World War II caused attention to be riveted on military events, there was considerable concern in the United States about the fact that all the world's gold was drifting to this country. This has been obscured by the clash and roar of the Russian campaign, but it is still going on.

In fact, it is going on with a new twist, because Russia was one of the few countries which still had gold in quantity. Now Russia is turning over its gold to the United States in exchange for desperately needed war supplies.

The monetary gold stocks of the United States stood at $22,718,686,000 at the end of August, an increase of more than $44,000,000 in that month alone. The tendency for the United States to get it all continues without interruption.

Renewed assurances come from Germany that one of that country's aims is to abolish entirely the gold basis for money. This is always placed on a high moral plane, with mouthings about "delivering the world from the domination of gold," but its sincerity is about on a par with other Nazi declarations since they have never failed to loot each conquered country of all the gold in sight. There never was enough in sight, however, so having no gold, the Nazis are against it.

Nevertheless, it must not be forgotten that wherever Nazi bayonets dominate, the Nazi mark also dominates. Bulgaria and Serbia, which had clung to a gold basis for their money, have just been compelled to abandon it and base their currency on the Reichsmark. Croatia and Yugoslavia were recently added to the "new financial order" of the Reichsmark, which means the Germans may acquire any assets in those countries at their own price, since the relationship between their currencies and the paper mark of Germany are set by fiat and maintained by the bayonet.

This strongly suggests that the United States must do something more with its gold than sit on it. Once again we suggest that one thing to do is to distribute part of the gold obviously not needed for any conceivable monetary use among friendly countries whose trade we wish to increase and link with our own. Instead of loans and credits when we wish to buy manganese, tin or chromium or build a Pan-American road, is it not worthwhile to consider the possible effect of swapping hard gold which is in excess of our needs for commodities which we do need?

This would enable friendly countries to adjust their currencies to that of the United States, and help to create a "dollar" area of the world which could stand against the "phony mark area." Then, when the bayonets no longer support the mark, there will be something stable in the world to take its place.

Do You Remember Schlageter, Adolf?

Viggo Hansteen and Rolf Wickstrom have by their death at the hands of the Nazi overlords in Norway wiped out the blot of Quisling. The two Norse labor leaders, led before a Hitler firing squad on charges of having sabotaged against the conquerors of their country, more than overbalance in their martyrdom the man whose name has become a synonym for treachery and shame.

Hansteen and Wickstrom! There are two more names to remember. One man should understand their "crime," and that man is Adolf Hitler. Leo Schlageter was his hero when he wrote Mein Kampf. Schlageter was a German Hansteen or Wickstrom of 20 years ago. But the shoe was on the other foot then.

Leo Schlageter had been a German artillery officer in the World War, a fellow veteran of Hitler. In 1923, five years after that war was over, the French occupied the Rhineland when Germany failed to pay reparations. A railway line between Dusseldorf and Duisburg was blown up, and Schlageter was caught in the act.

Despite appeals to the French by the Reich government and even by the Vatican, Schlageter was executed on May 26, 1923. Immediately he became a hero of all the nationalist elements in Germany, and one of the "political saints" of the early days of the Nazi party. Many a "Heil" has Hitler himself given to his hero, Leo Schlageter.

Now it is almost 20 years later. The position is now entirely reversed. Now it is Hitler whose legions trample the peoples of a dozen conquered countries. Now it is German oppression that brave men take their lives in their hands to resist. Now it is Hitler, who admired the courage and loyalty of his comrade, who is giving the orders to shoot down other Schlageters of other lands.

Hitler thought all the Schlageters were in Germany; that courage and loyalty and devotion were German. Increasingly, day after day, week after week, month after month, he is going to run against the same qualities in other peoples. In Holland, France, Belgium, and Denmark, in Yugoslavia and Greece and Czechoslovakia and Poland there are other Hansteens and other Wickstroms.

Hitler may shoot them, but he must understand them, and as each dies, may Hitler start up in his bed and look into the eyes of his old comrade, Schlageter.

Illinois has named a corn queen. Well, women insist on wearing shoes that are too small.

Forest fires reported in Michigan. When unchecked they're almost as destructive as picnickers.

You can expect news of a new counter-attack any day now. Fall sales!

Having to peel them probably has headed off a lot of peach shortages.

MRS. CYRUS BARRON

(Contributed)

Just as the sunset of life, the angel of death removed from us one of Dixon's most highly esteemed mothers by the death of Mrs. Cyrus Barron of 815 South Hennepin Ave., coming as an unexpected blow to all near and dear to her. Her attractive personality was known to many and those who had the privilege of close association and friendship recognized in her a woman of highest honor, a loving and devoted mother, and a faithful friend. Fresh in the recollection of her friends is her good and wholesome character. All that is mortal is changed but there is a great comfort in the hope of reunion in Christ in a brighter and happier world where sorrow and suffering are alike unknown. Her desire to do good when she was here in this life will find a fuller expression in the life of the other world with Christ. As she reaped in daily experience here so she will find the larger reaping there. Her whole life radiated love, her genuine goodness and optimism brightened her home.

Mrs. Cyrus Barron, nee Julia Young, was the daughter of Henry and Mary Young and was born in Somerset, Pa. on Jan. 1, 1854 and passed away in Dixon, Ill., on December 22, 1874. She was united in marriage to Cyrus Barron. In 1880 they moved to Dixon, Ill. To this union was born one daughter, Mrs. Clinton Lindeman of Dixon, who is left to mourn the sudden passing of her mother. One brother also survives, Frank L. Young, also a number of nieces and nephews. Mr. Barron preceded her in death on June 14, 1920.

Mrs. Barron was a member of the Grace Evangelical church of Dixon.

The funeral service was held in the home on Tuesday, Sept. 16, 1941, 2 P. M. with the Rev. George D. Nielsen, pastor of the Grace Evangelical church, officiating. Interment was in Oakwood cemetery, Dixon.

Sometime when the day is ended
And its round of duties done,
I watched at the western windows
The gleam of the setting sun.
When my heart has been unquiet
And its longings unobeyed,
By the day's vexatious trials
And cannot be reconciled,
I look on the slope of the mountains
And over the restless sea,
And I think of the beautiful city
That lieth not far from me.

And my spirit is hushed in a moment
As the twilight falls tender and sweet,
And I kneel in fancy the river
And kneel at h Msesae's feet,
And I rest in the shade, that there
From the trees that with healing
Are rife,
That shadows the banks of the river,
The river of water of life.

And sometimes when the day is ended,
And the duties he gave me are gone,
I shall watch at life's western Windows

The gleam of the setting sun,
I shall fall asleep in the twilight
As I never slept before,
To dream of the beautiful city
That I waken to sleep no more
They will fall on my restless
Spirits

A hush, oh, so wondrously sweet
And I shall cross over the river
To rest at the Master's feet.

Deaths

Suburban—

MRS. EVA KRINBILL

Many Dixon friends will be grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. Eva Krinbill, widow of George E. Krinbill, for many years Supervisor of Music in the Dixon schools and mother of Clarence E. Krinbill, the well known musician. She passed away at her home in Altadena, California, in her eighty-ninth year and until her last illness retained her outstanding mentality and remarkable memory. A lifelong Methodist, she was known for her beautiful Christian character and many here were cheered by her winning smile and gentle loveliness.

In her home here on Fifth street she radiated a warm, helpful hospitality which is remembered fondly by those fortunate enough to come under its influence. In 1924 she and Mr. Krinbill celebrated their golden wedding anniversary and many Dixon friends were participants of the event. Those here who know of the unusually strong love ties which bound mother and son together, will sympathize with Clarence, as he was familiarly known here, in his bereavement.

AUGUST F. MUSBECK

August F. Musbeck passed away at the home of his niece, Mrs. A. J. Bohlen last night at 11:00 o'clock, after an illness of about two weeks duration. He was born in Germany, Jan. 10, 1869. He had made his home in Batavia until about a year ago when he came to Dixon to reside. One sister, Mrs. Martha Becker of this city survives. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Melvin funeral home, Rev. R. W. Ford, pastor of the Christian church officiating and interment will be in Oakwood.

As a result of materials being better now, the phrase "stripping gears" is practically obsolete.

Classes in Retail Store Management to Begin Tuesday

Dixon retailers, wholesalers and their employees will be offered a 10 weeks course in small store management, together with a companion course in modern retail selling, to be held at the high school, beginning Tuesday evening, Sept. 23, at 7:30 o'clock, under the auspices of the board of education of the high school and the Dixon Chamber of Commerce.

These courses will be taught by Clarence N. Bolton, an authority in small store management. Mr. Bolton received his training from Browns business college, Sterling, Chicago. He was formerly store manager for Montgomery Ward & Co., and has been associated with the How-Anderson Milling Co., and owner of C. N. Bolton Company of Buda. He is an experienced retailer and office manager, personnel training instructor, and a teacher who can put over his ideas to the class room.

The course in small store management deals with the many problems of the small city merchant, and how simple modern methods may be adapted toward greater volume, profit, and stability. The course also includes a review of factors in the management of employees, merchandise and finances which determine retail success or failure.

The course in modern retail selling covers points leading to the discovery of customer needs, analyzing buying motives, using merchandise facts effectively, and closing sales. "Selling goods that won't come back to customers who will". Essentials of desirable and profitable store service and ways to create and develop a personal clientele.

Presented by Board

These courses are presented by the local board of education as part of a state-wide program of adult business education offered in cooperation with the Illinois Board for Vocational Education. These evening classes have been outstandingly successful in past years in over 100 Illinois cities, and carry the endorsement of the Illinois Federation of Retail Associations and other state and local business organizations.

The instructor not only conducts the scheduled classes, but supplements class room work with personal counseling through visits to stores, giving the merchant and his employees the benefit of his expert opinion on individual problems. Such personal advice and instruction is very valuable, and is, of course, of a confidential nature.

These courses are for the benefit of local men and women, employer and employee—anyone interested in personal advancement through voluntary study.

Enrollment is limited to forty. Registration may be made in advance by calling the school office or at the first meeting of each class.

Dodgers Lose Decision to Pirates and to Umpire George Magerkurth

By JUDSON BAILEY

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

If the Brooklyn Dodgers don't win the National League baseball championship maybe they will go after Joe Louis' heavyweight boxing crown.

They took their minds off baseball long enough yesterday to lose a critical game to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-5, and they also lost their preliminary venture into the heavyweight class to Umpire George Magerkurth, a man mountain weighing about 225 pounds and 6 feet 4 inches tall.

But the fates which protect little children—and the Dodgers—saw them through their hours of travail once again by bringing the Boston Braves a 4-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. This kept Brooklyn in front by one game with the standings:

	Won	Lost	Play
Brooklyn ...	93	52	9
St. Louis ...	91	52	10

The rumour at Pittsburgh was one of those wild sideshows for which the delirious Dodgers have become famous.

Tense All the Way

The game was tense all the way, with the Pirates hoping on Fred Fitzsimmons, their old nemesis, for four runs in the fourth, and Johnny Lanning holding the Dodgers to two singles through seven scoreless innings.

There was a rumbling of trouble in the seventh when Larry French, who had relieved Fitz, hit Frank Guthrie with a pitch and Guthrie threw his bat at the umpire.

Durocher rushed between the two, shoved Casey out of the way and stormed at Magerkurth in language that the umpire later modestly termed "bitter." Finally Magerkurth ordered the manager out of the game. Casey walked Lopez, Alf Anderson tripped and a potential Brooklyn victory flew through the pearly gates.

The feud with Magerkurth continued under the stands after the game until tough little Bill Stewart, whose pugnaciousness is respected even by the battling Brooks, broke up the wrangling. Durocher broke up some chairs and odds and ends after he got to the dressing room, too, but this didn't do the Dodgers any good.

What did do them some good was Boston beating the Cards. Frank Demaree got his only hit of the series at St. Louis in the first inning—a homer with two on—and Gene Moore clouted another with the bases empty in the sixth. With this backing, Manny Salvo held the Cards to six hits and won easily.

Would Have Taken Lead

The Redbirds would have taken the lead by two percentage points if they had won. They play the Chicago Cubs today while the Dodgers have an open date, but victory still would leave them a half game out of first place.

In yesterday's other games, the Cincinnati Reds swept their second straight doubleheader from the Phillies, 5-0 and 9-2. Ray Starr, a seasoned minor leaguer, pitched the shutout, and Frank McCormick hit a three-run homer to lead the attack in the nightcap.

The Cubs took fifth place away from the New York Giants by beating them, 7-1, on the four-hit hurling of Jake Mooty and a six-run rally in the seventh inning.

Bob Feller acquired his 24th victory with an eight-hit pitching job that led Cleveland to a 6-1 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

The Washington Senators returned the St. Louis Browns, 9-5,

Dixon-Rockford Tilt Picks Up Where '40 Game Left Off

EAST ROCKFORD COACH TO BRING 57 PLAYERS HERE

Winger Names Starting Lineup For Soph Game at 6:30

They're picking up tonight from where they left off last year. When the Dixon Dukes entertain (that's hardly the word) the East Rockford gridmen here tonight, they'll just be continuing a game which ended in the 15th avenue stadium in Rockford along about this time a year ago.

It was then that Coach C. B. Lindell's boys counted first downs by the carload but were unable to score against the East sides—and the hosts had the same "difficulty."

So—tonight they resume action in the same plot, with some slight changes of scenery and characters, but the main theme is the same.

Rockford Brings 57 Players

Tonight's varsity game (which follows the sophomore encounter) will be the first of the season for the visiting team of 57 players. Coach Harry Palmer admits his team is an inexperienced gang of leads, but spunky as "all get-out." Of those who started in the lineup of the 1940 Dixon-Rockford game, only Mastrangeli and Bergman remain to the Rockford team this year. The former plays full back (and plenty of it) while Bergman is a guard.

In the 1940 encounter the Dukes counted 15 first downs to eight by the hosts and the Lindell-men made a total of 297 yards as compared to 161 by Rockford. If there is such a thing as a "moral victory," the Dukes had it that night. Now, they must try again—and if experience is the excellent teacher it's cracked up to be, they should profit a great deal by the surprise job administered to them last week when Oregon trounced the locals, 13 to 7.

Missing from the lineup will be Cooper who is out for a couple of weeks and Stevens, a reserve player.

In a practice scrimmage at Rock Falls the other night the sophomores scored one touchdown to two counted by the hosts who outweighed and outcharged the Winger men.

Commenting on tonight's possibilities, "Dutch" Winger said:

"All I know is what Harry Palmer, coach of the other night at the coaches' meeting when he said the Rockford sophomores will be better than last year."

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Lions Roar Over Country Club In Annual Tourney

There were more Lions running around loose over the fairways of the Dixon Country club yesterday afternoon than you'd find in a Frank Buck safari movie.

The occasion was the Lions club's annual district golf tournament for the members of the northern Illinois district.

Forty-four golfers participated in the day's events and prize winners were figure on banker's handicap. Low net score award went to Bert Youngquist of Rockford who carded a 70 and Bert Luhman, also of Rockford was second with 72.

Cal G. Tyler of Dixon won low gross with 78 and Floyd Smith, another local Lion, was second for low gross with 80. Third prize went to R. W. Black of Rockford who marked up an 83.

A six-way tie for third low net scored—figured on a banker's handicap—was recorded when the following Lion men carded 73s: Stan Smith, H. E. Beckman and Roy Larsen, all of Rockford; Paul (Porky) Thomas of Sterling; Elwin Wadsworth and "Peewee" Myers of Dixon.

Prizes For Birdies

Dr. S. P. Stackhouse of Dixon and Dr. A. Miller of Rockford were awarded prizes for birdies.

Charles Powell of Rockford, playing under the handicap of a not-completely-healed broken arm, took a prize for high gross score of 130.

Wernick of Rockford was second with 125. Willard Jones of Dixon shot a 95 but managed to draw only a four handicap and his resulting 91 was high net for the day. Ernie Ekstrom of Rockford was rewarded for posting a flock of sixes on his card.

Other prizes went to O. W. T. Peterson of Rockford, Harry Bates of Dixon, Hal Mater of Dixon, Dyer Putnam of Rockford, Fred Carlson of Rockford, Nate Kaiserman of Dixon, Carl Plovman of Dixon, Bill Schafer of Rockford and William Engberg of Rockford.

Ten additional Lions joined the festivities at the dinner hour and Lion John Torrens was toastmaster. Brief talks were given as part of the dinner program.

Committees planning the event were headed by Elwin Wadsworth as general chairman; golf—Don Raymond (assisted by Pro Ralph Stonehouse); prizes—Eldon Myers and banquet—Victor Eichler.

Five Men Battle for Tom Harmon's Halfback Position

Chicago, Sept. 19.—(AP)—A five-man battle for Tom Harmon's old left halfback job was in prospect when Michigan's grid drills began, but now only three are fighting for the unenviable task of filling his boots.

The fight now is among Tom Kuzma, Don Robinson and Paul White, all untied sophomores. Cliff Wise, junior reserve, decided not to return to school and yesterday it became known that Sophomore John Allerdice, ace passer, has transferred to Princeton university.

Allerdice's father captained the Michigan eleven in 1909, but an older son, Dave, graduated from Princeton last spring after a brilliant football career. Relatives of the family in Indianapolis said John and Dave left Wednesday for Princeton.

John, whose passing stood out in the spring practice game, won numerals in football and basketball as a freshman.

Coach Paul Brown's system of shifting players around has all his Ohio State players guessing the personnel of the starting eleven against Don Faurot's Missouri eleven next week ... An hour and a half scrimmage yesterday produced seven touchdowns at Wisconsin, Pat Harder, sophomore prize, jaunting 85 yards for one score. Most of them, however, came on passes engineered by pitchers Tom Harris, Bud Seeling and Paul Bronson ... Mal Ellward, in characteristic fashion, says Purdue's blocking from the quarterback spot is a joy to behold. He was highly optimistic about the Boilermakers' running attack after Thursday's drill.

Earl Doloway, Bill Hillenbrand, Dale Swihart and Charles Jacoby are being primed as Indiana's passers this season ... Capt. Bill Diehl, Iowa center, is idle with a twisted knee ... Minnesota's better players, of which there are quite a few, poured 11 touchdowns over on the fourth stringers in a scrimmage yesterday. Bruce Smith, Bill Daley and Bob Sweigert running over the reserves ... Illinois' Bob Zuppke is giving Tom McCulough, guard, a shot at the center spot ... Sophomores Alex Kapler, guard, and Tom Vincent, tackle, are pushing veterans in the Northwestern line ... At Notre Dame, Wally Ziemba, center, returned to action after laying off a week with an injured knee.

DRAFT BOARD PUTS TOM HARMON IN TOP CLASS

Gary, Ind., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Tom Harmon, top grade football player, is in the same class in the draft.

A selective service board placed the former Michigan All-America halfback in Class 1 last night, making him subject to immediate physical examination to determine if he is ready for service at once.

The board denied Harmon's request that he be placed in 3A on the ground his parents were dependent on him. His father is a retired steelworker.

BOWLING ISN'T "UP ALLEY" OF SOME POOR DUFFERS LAST EVE

Mebbe a guy who can't run like a race horse has no bizzness cracking down on "Whirlaway"—or mebbe it's the old chestnut: "If you're so darn smart, why ain't ya rich?"

Anyway you look at it, it just ain't up our alley—bowling, we mean. Least-ways, it sure weren't last nite. A gutter-ball guy hain't no right to make smart cracks, like fur-instance, calling the Cahill's the "Has-Beens". Even with salt and pepper those words ain't easy to eat ... but the Telegraph sure had to do that last night at the Dixon Recreation alleys when the Commercial League got underway.

(And just at the moment we write this—no foolin'—in comes a guy with a little booklet called "Strikes and Sparer's" season's record and some helpful bowling hints.) Great day, Horace, quit jabbing us in the spare ribs!

Oh well, next Thursday night is a clean slate—and now that the boys have had some practice ...

"Anyway ..."

Anyway ... (to put it bluntly) the Cahill's Electric defeated the Telegraph in two games last night. Leading the winners was big Jim Biggart with a 489 series and Friday Shultz paced the three-man Telegraph team with 532 for the highest series of the league session.

The National Tea paced by Courtwright with a 486 series—won two games from Reynolds wire. Rube Winebrenner was high man for the screen-makers with a 457 series. (How long have these birds been practicing anyway?)

Budweiser Gardens won two games from Coca-Cola as Hahn rolled 506 for the winners and Oehl counted 458 for the soft-drink clan.

Sparky's Fenders defeated the Round Up in two games. Leading the winners was Vener with a 530 series and Vivian counted 514 for the losers.

High games last night was Friday Shultz' 221 in his second. Coca-Cola captured high team game with 972 and Budweiser Gardens rolled high team series with 2753.

President Rejects

Commodity Credit Corporation.
Soldier Relieved
At the same time Brig. Gen. Russell L. Maxwell, who has acted as administrator of export control since the office was organized July 2, 1940, was relieved of that assignment and ordered back to duty in the war department.
More than 100 other army officers—mostly from the reserves—are now on duty with the export control administration but there has been no decision yet as to their future disposition.

In the behind-the-scenes conflict, informed sources said, members of one faction described the others as "new dealers" and were, in turn, called "army bureaucrats".
The so-called "new dealers" charged that the "army bureaucrats" had ambitious plans—even to the point of preparing proposed executive orders for the president's signature—which would expand and extend the export control administration's powers until it would be in control of the major part of defense industries.

This, the non-military faction argued, would be detrimental to the best interests of American industry.
Some Facts Unchallenged
The military faction denied any ambitions to control industry, asserting the export control administration's powers were clearly defined in various presidential orders and had not been overreached. The "new dealers," they charged, were chiefly interested in placing their proteges in the considerable number of positions in the organization and utilize the emergency opportunity to experiment with "reforms".
Unchallenged facts in the controversy are:
After issuing a proclamation setting up the export control administration the president, on July 2, 1940, issued a military order as commander-in-chief which stated that control of exports was essentially a military function, and designated Maxwell as administrator of export control.

On September 15, the president, reversing his position that export control was essentially a military function, transferred the export control administration's functions to the economic defense board as a branch of that organization.
As the official reason for the change, Vice President Wallace announced that "the powers of the office of export control will be more closely integrated into the broader work of the economic defense board".

Green to Address IIOC Convention on Saturday

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 19—(AP)—Illinois CIO unions have enrolled 300,000 members in five years and have firmly established industrial unionism in this state, regional director Ray Edmundson said today in an address keynoteing the first state convention of the Congress of Industrial Organizations.
Edmundson and Allan S. Haywood, national director of organization for the CIO, were principal speakers at the opening session of the three-day convention which officials said would be attended by some 600 delegates representing 42 CIO-affiliated unions.

The requisition ask New Mexico authorities, who arrested Carlin several days ago, to surrender him for prosecution in Illinois.

up to prevent the vital headquarters from being surrounded, went into action along the Red and Cane rivers near Natchitoches.
As darkness halted action along the 75-mile front, the Second Army's strategy was not apparent. General Lear had the choice of attempting to continue moving his mechanized wedge through the center of the Third Army's front, or of drawing back to meet General Krueger's apparent mass attack on both flanks.
Informed army officers said the first maneuver problem would be ended today and a recess called until Monday or Tuesday when the second phase of the two weeks war games would be started.

Nazis Claim

huge fires were raging in Leningrad, blazing so fiercely they could be seen with the naked eye in broad daylight from Finnish territory.
Other Nazi reports said Stuka dive bombers had silenced the guns of Kronstadt fortress, powerful island naval base 20 miles from Leningrad, thus paving the way for German warships to steam up the Gulf of Finland and shell the old czarist capital at close range.
A Red army bulletin acknowledged that the Germans had reached one of Kiev's gates, but indicated that the struggle had not yet reached a decisive phase. Bitter fighting raged around the city of 850,000 inhabitants throughout the night, a late soviet communique said.

New Pressure on Odessa
New pressure was reported, too, on the long-sieged Black Sea port of Odessa where the Germans said they dropped more than 220,000 pounds of bombs in a single night attack.
The German high command, releasing casualty figures on the first two months of the 90-day struggle, said German losses were 84,354 killed, 292,690 wounded and 18,921 missing. German air force losses for the two-month period were given as 1,542 dead, 3,980 wounded and 1,378 missing.

Russian prisoners were listed at more than 1,800,000 since the beginning of the conflict, with the number of soviet killed rated considerably higher.
British estimates yesterday said the Russians had lost 3,000,000 men and the Germans 2,000,000.
Sources of Supply
Authorized London quarters, acknowledged that the loss of coal and oil fields, steel plants and other war industries in the Ukraine had dealt a sore blow to the Russians, declared nevertheless that the U. S. S. R. could maintain a large army in the field even if the Germans overran the Donets industrial basin and took Kharkov.

Alternative sources of supply, it was said, would prevent a Russian collapse.
On the northern front, Finnish army officers less than 10 miles from Kronstadt said thick smoke enveloped the island's batteries before they ceased firing.
Hitler's newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, said the guns of Kronstadt, emplaced above a 23-foot ship channel between Leningrad's harbor and deep waters of the Gulf of Finland to the west, had been blasted out of action by a coordinated attack of German dive-bombers and land batteries of artillery from the south shore of Kronstadt bay.

Four Iowans Suffer Minor Injuries Today in Crash Near Dixon

Four persons were treated for minor injuries at the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital this afternoon, following a collision of two Iowa cars at the intersection of U. S. route 30 and state route 26 at Brecon corners about 12:30 noon today. Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Essex of Waterloo, Iowa, Sam M. Reisler, manager of the Kline store at Clinton, Iowa, and A. J. Zahn, of New York City, official of the Kline stores, were treated at the hospital.
Reisler and Zahn were en route to Dixon to visit with N. H. Kaiser, manager of the local Kline store, and were reported to have turned north on route 26 in leaving the route 30 paving. Mr. and Mrs. Essex were driving west en route to Waterloo, when their car struck the Reisler machine. An ambulance was summoned to the scene and all of the persons were brought to the hospital, where their injuries were dressed. Both cars were considerably damaged and were hauled to a local garage.

Green to Spend Six Days in Chicago

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 19—(AP)—Gov. Dwight H. Green will spend six days in Chicago next week and some of his aides said he probably would begin a personal campaign in behalf of the Republican party's Cook county judicial slate in the November election.
The governor's office said he would be in Chicago from Monday through Saturday. On Thursday Mr. Green will address a luncheon meeting of the Traffic club on the following day a meeting of the Association of Bar Women and on Saturday, Sept. 27, will assist in the presentation of a $500,000 alumni gift to the University of Chicago on the occasion of the university's 50th anniversary.
It was known Governor Green plans to take an active part during the next six weeks in the Chicago judicial campaign, in which the Cook county Republican committee is running a full slate of 21 superior court candidates against a coalition ticket supported by the Kelly-Nash Democratic organization. The election is Nov. 4.

Vandalia Woman's Murder Trial Is Nearing Its End

Vandalia, Ill., Sept. 19—(AP)—Three important witnesses were called by the state to give testimony yesterday in the murder trial of Mrs. Florence Cokenower, 55, in connection with the death of her husband, Harvey.
The state then rested its case after Sheriff C. F. Cheshire, former State's Attorney W. F. Sonnenmann and Charles Sarver, former neighbor of the defendant, gave testimony intended to show Mrs. Cokenower killed her husband because she feared he was going to testify against her in another case.
The defendant was brought here for trial from Dwight reformatory for women. She is serving a sentence of one to 14 years for assault with intent to kill Sarver.
The state contended, through the witnesses, that Mrs. Cokenower killed her husband because he was the only witness to the Sarver shooting in January, 1939.

Shot Before Trial

Cokenower was shot to death Oct. 27, 1939 in his bed at home just a short time before his wife was to go on trial on the assault charge.
Sonnenmann asserted he had planned to call Cokenower as a witness at the hearing on the assault charge, and Sarver testified that the defendant's husband was the only witness to the shooting.
Sheriff Cheshire explained before the jury he investigated the slaying and found a recently used shotgun in the Cokenower home.
The state introduced testimony Mrs. Cokenower gave at the inquest in which she asserted she was in the kitchen when she heard a crash and ran into the bedroom to hear her dying husband say "Somebody got me".
The defense called Mrs. Cokenower's son, Floyd, who told the jury his mother telephoned him the day of the shooting, telling him his father had been shot.

The defense contends Cokenower was killed by an unknown assailant who fired at him through a window.

which sent the Japanese marching into Manchuria was marked by bomb explosions which killed more than 30 persons, some of them Japanese. At least 50 persons were injured in the blasts allegedly set off by anti-Japanese agents.
Martial law was declared in Canton, and Japanese troops rounded up hundreds of suspects.
In Shanghai, gunmen recently shot and killed two men and seriously wounded two Japanese. One of the slain men was a former Chiang Kai-Shek official, the other was N. A. Ivanov, chairman of the pro-Japanese White Russian emigrants committee.

In Berlin five men died under the axe Tuesday, four charged with "preparation for treason," the other with espionage. Those executions in the heart of Nazi-land brought the year's total to 23 in Germany.
This week also marked the lifting of a state of civil siege in German-occupied Oslo which was imposed for exactly a week after strike movements had begun to trouble the administration. Two union leaders were executed at the outset of the period and hundreds were arrested, many being sent to concentration camps.

Germans have thrust out arms to encircle it, and claim that a huge number of Russian troops are trapped. Further down the river Dneper, on which Kiev stands, the Nazis claim to have forced a passage of this great waterway and established bridgeheads on the eastern side.
The Crimean peninsula, on which lies the Russian naval base of Sevastopol, is threatened if not actually cut off from the mainland. Meantime, the Nazis are reported to have gathered naval ships in the Bulgarian harbors ready for a drive across the Black sea in an effort to land troops in the Caucasus and storm the Russians from the rear.

The development of the German strategy will be worth watching, for the scheme is a vast one. Should they be able to get a foothold in the Caucasus they not only would have the bolshheviks fighting on two fronts in southern Russia, but they would have severed the soviet lifeline to the Persian gulf—a major disaster for the Reds.
At that juncture, of course, the Russian and British forces in Iran (Persia) would come into action. Upon this clash would depend whether Hitler could gain control of the Middle East, thereby at one and the same time opening up the road to the riches of India and paving the way for an attack on Egypt.
The Hitlerian program which is now unfolding is one of the most colossal in all the history of the conquerors.
There are 39 counties in the state of Washington.

Garage Contents Burn

A fire, believed to have started from spontaneous combustion, destroyed the contents of a garage at 522 Peoria avenue last night at 11 o'clock, the property belonging to Miss Rose Whipp, chief nurse at the Dixon state hospital. Several boxes of clothing and household effects had been stored in the garage and these were either consumed or badly damaged by the flames and water. Chief Sam Cramer of the fire department estimated the damage at about $200, there being no insurance on the contents, but the damage to the building was covered.

spare time" she was asked. "I don't have any," she admitted, and added, "I eat once in a while".

She is one of three park naturalists in the state, the others, both men, are serving at Starved Rock and Pere Marquette state parks. A landscape architect as well as a natural scientist, she was in charge of landscaping the arsenal grounds at Rock Island for the war department from 1935 to 1938. Col. A. G. Gillespie authorized her appointment for the arsenal project.

Seminary Graduate

She was graduated from Davenport, Iowa high school and from National Park Seminary in Forest Glen, Md. Before coming to Ogle county, she was with the public schools of Chicago, teaching nature appreciation and landscape gardening at the Washburn Trade school.

She has already arranged special classes and tours for Boy and Girl Scouts, members of conservation and garden departments of Women's clubs, including the Timely Park Women's club, and says daily hikes through the park will be continued throughout the winter.

She hopes that children interested in the study of trees, will visit her soon, as the leaves are dropping fast, already.

"Our whole program," she explains, "revolves about conservation." "Since the park is so rich in native flora," she continues, "as well as the only native stand of white pines within the state, and many plants that grow only in this association, the park is of particular interest to the botanist. My efforts are directed to caring for fast-diminishing species, that unfortunately have been destroyed in many areas."

Recreation

Close to 100 seedlings from two to four feet high, that were in danger of becoming smothered from larger trees, have already been transplanted, and the reforestation work will continue until the weather becomes too cold. Bert Sweet, custodian and his workmen are doing the transplanting, under Mrs. Hills' supervision. Many trees, it will be remembered, were lost in the storms of last Armistice Day and early July.

Berry species now in their prime at the park, the visitor learns, includes the blue-black berry (blue cohosh); the dark blue berry of the giant Solomon seal; the red berries of the false Solomon seal and nightshade; and the fruit stalk of the jack-in-the-pulpit which is particularly spectacular. Two native dogwoods are also in berry, and the margin of the woods is ablaze with golden rod, aster clusters shading from white to deep purple, blue giant lobelia, and yellow native sunflowers.

The bittersweet is also in berry, but Mrs. Hills hastily cautions that before frost, this ornamental vine is useless. "I hope that the next legislature will protect bittersweet—it's disappearing so fast," she declares.

Mrs. Hills announces that several new hiking trails have been blazed, and is eager to discuss plans for promoting a winter sports program. The superintendent of parks has oked her suggestion for building a toboggan run for use of winter visitors, and a spot near the lodge will be flooded for ice skating, as in former years.

She is available for lecture engagements throughout the state, and is enthusiastic about any program that will perpetuate beauties of the forest, not only for this generation, but generations to come.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Justification Found for Christians Making Righteous Wars for Peace

Text: Revelation 12:7-12; 15:2-4

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

Editor of Advance

The topic of this lesson is "The Basis of Ultimate Victory." Victory is the word today. I have just returned from the war-active city of Halifax, N. S. Here I found in the shop windows, on automobiles, and almost everywhere that one looked, the V symbolizing victory which, as a surreptitious symbol in German occupied and dominated countries, has been so much troubling Hitler that he has sought belatedly to turn it to his own ends. But the Victory of our lesson is an even larger and deeper warfare.

A lesson like this emphasizes all the difficulties of exact interpretation of the Book of Revelation, but the situation in our own time helps us to understand its broad teaching and purpose. As we have pointed out, it was written for severely persecuted and hard-pressed Christians.

Their faithfulness depended upon their hope of ultimate victory, and it is this assurance that right will triumph over wrong that the writer of the Book was making plain. It is this that is graphically portrayed in this conflict of Michael, the true saint, and his angels, with the dragon and the angels of evil.

"There was war in heaven." Surely heaven is the last place where one would expect war! It is a common assumption that, if we could only perfect our social conditions and environment, everything would be well. Yet here in heaven, where we think of conditions as ideal, there was war. We are reminded that as eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, so it is the price of peace. Good conditions do not guarantee suppression of evil ambitions and the lust of power.

"There was war in heaven." Even in heaven the forces and the power of evil could not be overthrown without conflict. There is a point where the appeals of grace, overcoming evil with good, and turning the other cheek, have their limitations, and the power of evil has to be met with uncompromising opposition.

The Christian way is a way of peace, but Michael and his angels went forth to war and there was no peace until the great dragon was cast down and forced out of heaven.

Surely there is a parable in this for our own time. A good woman recently wrote me to protest against our plans of defense and the assistance we are giving to others against aggression on the plea that "war is senseless." Of course war is senseless. It is worse than senseless; it is criminal.

But must we not make a distinction between a senseless war and the force that law-abiding and peaceable men would use in suppressing crime and in meeting invasion or the threat of invasion? When the Christian, however, wars for anything but righteousness and peace, his warfare is not of God but of the devil.

Canvass of Every Farm in Nation is Planned This Fall

Part of New Food-for-Defense Program Is Announced Today

Chicago, Sept. 19.—(AP)—A door-to-door canvass of every farm in the United States, asking producers to gear their 1942 crops to the defense program, will be completed by Dec. 1, a federal farm leader said today.

Wayne H. Darrow, information chief of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, told 400 midwest agricultural agents the campaign to increase the nation's food output would be carried into the farm home by a questionnaire, to be filled out by 7,000,000 farm families.

County agents then will use persuasion to swing the farmer's production plans to meet defense needs.

Darrow outlined the program as follows:

Food goals for each state were drawn up by federal authorities this week. They recommended specific increases in meats and dairy products, and certain reductions in crops like wheat and cotton.

In Minnesota, for example, the principal goals included an increase of 688 million pounds of milk, 15 million dozen eggs, and 81 million pounds of beef and veal cattle. The state was asked to reduce its wheat by 100,000 acres.

To Break Down Quotas

A Minnesota defense council, organized by the department of agriculture, will break down the state quotas by counties, and the county defense committees then will carry out the farm-to-farm canvass.

The plan sheet which each farmer is asked to fill out is similar to the previous AAA questionnaires on wheat and corn acreage, but this time covers the acreage of every crop, the breeding of all animals or fowl and the production of milk. It represents the farmer's work plans for 1942.

County agents will attempt to show the farmer he can cooperate with the government at no loss to himself by changing, for example, some wheat land to fodder.

There are no penalties involved, patriotism and profits are the only appeals.

Since the principal lend-lease requirement is for more meat and milk, and since animals cannot be bred so quickly, the agents will stress better feeding.

Urge Better Feeding

An extra pint of milk each day from every cow would meet the dairy needs of the defense program, Darrow said. County agents will stress that this extra pint can be gained by special feeding, though the last pint of milk may cost a little more. More pork and eggs likewise will come from better feed.

By Dec. 1 the county agents will report how much extra food their farmers have agreed to produce. The state councils will forward their figures to Washington, and the government will total up its expected 1942 production for America and the enemies of the axis.

The Chicago farm conference, second of four regional meetings sponsored by the department of agriculture, included delegates from Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas.

Non-Flying Cadets Get Commissions

Chanute Field, Ill., Sept. 19.—(AP)—The army's first class of aviation cadets who aren't trained to fly airplanes will get commissions as second lieutenants tomorrow.

They will go on active duty as squadron engineering officers who stay on the ground to "keep 'em flying."

The 94 cadets are the first to be graduated under a new air corps policy of training special engineering officers who can relieve pilots now supervising the maintenance and repair of aircraft.

Major General Rush B. Lincoln, commander of the air corps technical training command, will return from his new headquarters at Tulsa to present the diplomas.

Four hundred more engineering aviation cadets are in training here and another class of 100 is expected October 1.

The first class has had seven and a half months of intensive work in aeronautical engineering, the first three months of which was spent at Purdue or New York universities. The university phase of the training has now been discontinued, however, and future classes will be commissioned after 22 weeks of training at the ground school here.

An apparatus called "arresting device" is used on the decks of aircraft carriers to slow up and stop the landing craft.

Green Asks Closer Tie Between Labor, Industry and Farm

Danville, Ill., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Declaring organized labor would lose its gains under totalitarian government, Gov. Dwight H. Green appealed today for a closer bond between labor, industry and agriculture in the interest of national defense and internal unity.

Speaking before the Illinois State Federation of Labor convention, Governor Green also reviewed the legislature's record during his first year in office and said his administration had supported a wide range of legislation beneficial to labor.

"Now is the time that industry, agriculture and labor can unite in one great and indissoluble partnership with the common purpose not only of national defense, but internal solidarity and invincible nationalism," he said.

"In labor we meet the very symbol of free government. Now, as never before, you have been called upon to unite in protecting those liberties with all your strength and patriotic zeal, x x x"

"The real defense of Americanism depends upon the zeal of those at home, who declare that in no place in the ranks of the people shall even a whisper of disloyalty to free and representative government be heard."

Plan Defense Clinic

Green said his administration and the state council of defense were undertaking through a series of defense clinics soon to be held throughout the state to bring more small Illinois manufacturing plants into defense production activity, thus to furnish more employment.

No citizen "will refuse the sacrifices which must be made" for national preparedness, Green declared, adding:

"God grant we be spared the tragedy of international combat, but we are determined to hold that which is ours against any aggressor force."

Among labor legislation which Green mentioned as having been enacted during the first year of his administration was the aid to dependent children program, liberalizing of unemployment compensation laws, the prevailing wage rate act and the so-called "anti-kick back" statute.

He urged unionists to support in the 1942 election the proposed constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to lift the state sales tax from foods.

Always remember that innertube patches are never as strong as the original material, so don't put too much reliance in them.

Woman Driver Under Bond; Charged With Leaving Crash Scene

Taylorville, Ill., Sept. 19—(AP)—Mrs. Rose Quick of Detroit, Mich., charged with leaving the scene of an accident, was free today on $1000 bail pending action of the November grand jury.

The charge grew out of an accident involving two other vehicles yesterday in which it was alleged Mrs. Quick ran over and seriously injured Lamar Nantkes, 18, Morrisonville, after he was hurled to the pavement when his machine crashed into the rear of a moving truck on route 48 near here.

Miss Donna Howard, 17, Morrisonville high school senior, was killed. Rose Mary Todd, 17, Morrisonville, and Evelyn Weitekamp, 17, Harvel, were injured. All were passengers in Nantkes' car. Darrell Spieth, Monroeville, Ind., truck driver, was not hurt.

A coroner's jury found Miss Howard met accidental death in the collision of the automobile with the truck.

Mrs. Quick was arrested here by Deputy Sheriff Frank Trapp as she stepped into an automobile bearing a license number which Spieth testified was borne by a car he attempted to flag down for assistance.

Mrs. Quick acknowledged at the inquest she passed the scene of an accident but said she was unaware she struck anything.
